TEMPERANCE MEETING.

The regular monthly Temperance meeting held in the Methodist church Sunday evening. Quite a good audience was present. Mr. Wm. Thornton, president, opened the meeting, by announcing the speaker of the evening, and called upon the choir for an opening song, to which they responded. Rev. D. C. Knowles then read the 19th Psalm, after which the choir sang again. Rev. Q. H. Shinn, as speaker of the evening, then spoke for about forty minutes upon the subject, "How to keep the Young." which he divided into three parts. First, "Good Example." Upon which he said that many men preach temperance and abstinence by silence the works of temperance. He believes that public sentiment is on the right side but public courage is not, that men are too likely to wonder how it will affect their business and their pocket, rather than the temperance cause. Young men are quick to observe the inconsistency of such temperance men, consequently have to respect for them and their teaching is lost. "Example is better than precept," and consistency must be required to do good. Second, "Sound Teachings." There is too much lecturing done, and statistics are talked about until young men become used to and tired of them and they do no good at all. In a constantly growing country like this there is no chance of arriving at a perfectly correct estimate of statistics but it is true that when temperance enters a home, property and happiness go out. People should make friends of the young men and help them for the good that is in them waiting to be drawn out perhaps, and they will be likely to endeavor to make themselves worthy of the honor. He alluded to the inconsistency of temperance men who smoke, as preaching against the slavery of one habit and being themselves a slave to another. Third, "Provide and Encourage Wholesome Amusement for the Young." Young men should be industrious and should read good books, of good worth and good teaching, and the biographies of men who have filled noble places in the world, also historical books, as such reading will inspire them to live noble lives. Then for good and good in the past, and good in the future, and they will not seek it in bad company. Any person respected by another may have an influence over a bad person, and will be able to get hold of the better impulses, which are found in all hearts, and draw them out to high and good motives. He concluded his address by emphasizing the fact that consistency is life. Mr. Thornton then invited any others interested to speak, and as no one replied at once to the invitation, Mr. Thornton, on his own motion, read a paper on the subject of "Hazard from Iowa, who was present, to speak of the standing of temperance in that state. Mr. Hazleton replied that he was not accustomed to speaking much in public, but gave a short statement of the present condition of temperance in Iowa, as very exciting for the passing of the prohibition bill has become merely a political question and many feared that it would not be passed by the state. He spoke of a city of 20,000 inhabitants in which there are 80 saloons, in Iowa, and of the free use of beer and wine among the Germans. Rev. Mr. Knowles then spoke of having recently seen a man from Dubuque who is quite sure that the prohibition side will win in Iowa. He spoke of the law being passed in our state for the study of hygiene in our schools, relating to the effect of alcoholism on the system. He then read some of the symptoms experienced by smokers as effects of tobacco on the system. One of these symptoms was a sudden start to sleep which the physician said was the effort of Nature to restore circulation to the blood about the heart and if the person should fail to give this a natural physician who described some of the symptoms experienced by smokers as effects of tobacco on the system. PLYMOUTH PARAGRAPHS.

Miss Addie Oakes has been quite ill. Mr. B. Carter's health is much improved. B. L. Caidon is working in Campton Village. The new Postal notes can now be seen at the Post Office. Charles Downing has been acting as waiter at the Penikese. Miss Fanny Sargent has returned from a short visit in Canterbury. Mr. Henry White has not been at work recently on account of poor health. Mr. Samuel Currier, at Lower Intervale has had his house newly shingled. J. M. Howe and wife returned home from Boston, Thursday, of last week. Eugene S. Bailey has been improving the walks about his home. Hiram Bishop, the new blacksmith has bought the place owned by William Irling. John Whiteman intends building a house in the back field of the late Mr. Cheney's residence. Rev. H. P. Peck preached in Winthrop church, Sunday, Sept. 3. He returned home Thursday of last week and officiated here Sunday. The hill and meadow back of Calley's mill on Hill Street, has been cleared of small trees and brush, making a decided improvement. Mrs. G. A. Brown, who lives in the Brown house, has just had her materials for stamping for embroidery, and would be pleased to receive work of this kind. The advertised temperance reading at the A. B. vestry Wednesday evening of last week, was postponed until some future date on account of the Hanoverians at the hall. I wish to say that I favor the suggestion of the Ashland correspondent to regard to a meeting at the Journal office, and trust that it will prove beneficial to all who may claim an invitation. Higgins Brothers of Manchester made a fine display of rich and elegant furniture and household goods at the late N. E. and State fairs at this city, arranged in several specially constructed buildings, provided with various colored glass windows, located in the main exhibition building. An immense throng was always present about it, admiring the beauty and taste of the arrangements. Fall Dry Goods. C. M. Boynton, Concord, N. H., is opening daily his new stock of Fall Dry Goods, and has a large and fine lot of goods on his counter. He has the best bargains on his counter. Rep. silk, velvets, broads, and plain. Cashmere and suitings, flannels, and all the latest and most desirable goods at wholesale prices, thereby giving his customers great bargains. Visit his store, sign of his hand, Concord, N. H. The Randolph, N. Y. Register, contains the following: "Prof. C. J. Brown, A. M., (for such a title was recently conferred upon him by the Wesleyan University of Ohio) who has for the past ten or twelve years held the position of principal of the commercial department of Chamberlain's Island, has been a member of the board of directors of the Chamberlain Island, and has contributed not a little to the success of that popular school, left town on train 4, Sunday evening, for his new field of labor at Burlington, Vt., where he has a commercial college established. Prof. Brown is a man who understands the theory of business well, and pupils under his charge can not fail of being benefited. He has many friends in this place who will regret his leaving." Mr. Brown's numerous friends in Plymouth will be pleased to read the above.

H. H. Hail has recently been in this vicinity.

The train south have been very heavily loaded of late. The Fair grounds are being repaired for the coming fair. Belle's Fair has nice peaches, pails and grapes for sale. Quite a number went from here to the Belle Fair at Manchester. Mrs. Charles A. French is visiting her father, Mr. Gilmore Houlton. There have recently been numerous accidents to Oswego Park. Mr. James Gilman is building additional to his house on the Neck. The down Penikese Valley train Monday noon consisted of five cars. Mr. A. J. Stephenson of, Washington, D. C. was in town recently. Mr. James G. Hoyt of Lawrence, Mass., is spending his vacation here. C. A. Tubey has the charge of the stone work repairing on the F. V. H. R. Frank Smith has left M. A. Ferris's glove shop and gone to work in Littleton. The roller skating rink was reopened Thursday night of last week in Taft's Hall. There are sixteen scholars in the higher department of the school this year, arriving at a perfectly correct estimate of statistics but it is true that when temperance enters a home, property and happiness go out. People should make friends of the young men and help them for the good that is in them waiting to be drawn out perhaps, and they will be likely to endeavor to make themselves worthy of the honor. A hand organ grinder was in town yesterday afternoon.

Our correspondents are especially requested to write the marriages, births and deaths on separate sheets with nothing on the back of them. W. C. Shorman had charge of the fireworks at Wells, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, which were discharged from a large mortar, the steamer Wimplesworth anchored in the lake opposite the wharf. The display on each occasion was magnificent, although the sale of the left light interfered somewhat. There was a profusion of a great variety of rockets, shells and Roman candles, colored fire and some brilliant set pieces. On the afternoon of each of these days fireworks of large paper animals, etc., were sent up in shells which burst, thereby liberating them so they sailed away like balloons, soon falling into the lake however. School commenced Monday, Sept. 3, with over forty scholars. Miss Whitehead, teacher. We are having a very good school thus far. The scholars like their teacher and we may expect a long term. Mr. D. W. E. Dargin, teacher at Ashland High school, stopped over the Sabbath at A. Lyford's. Mrs. Lyford being an aunt of his. A Lyford has been up to Mad River, his old home and found his sister Mrs. H. F. Dargin very low. Her dissolution is looked for at any time. As a general thing, crops are very good, except flax which is a perfect failure. Rev. Q. H. Shinn's family have arrived from Portland, after an absence of three weeks. They are expecting to go to Washington to the United States General Convention of Unitarians, Oct. 20th. N. Y. Rogers, Esq., is visiting in town with his family. He is from Michigan City, Ind. Mrs. H. F. Wyatt and Miss Nellie Webb have been spending a season at Old Orchard. An excursion from Montpelier to Wells passed through here recently of twelve cars. Two of Raymond's excursions, one up and the other down passed through here on the 10th inst. Belle Leighton has the agency for the light running Singer sewing machine. Call and see them. The Sunday Herald train will not appear any more this season, having made its last trip Monday. The criminal docket at the November term of Court will probably be heavier than for several years past. H. S. Chase's popular boarding establishment has been named the Highland House by his late summer guests. A blind man has been in town this week, in company with a boy who sold printed slips of poetry for his benefit. Mrs. H. B. Perkins has dissolved partnership with Mrs. W. M. Prosser, and has opened a store in Crawford's block. Mrs. Samuel Milligan's parents of Rumney are improving in health. Her mother's life was at one time despaired of. Miss Piper of Colebrook, a former graduate of the Normal School has been visiting her numerous friends here. Miss Alice Sanborn who was called home the first of the term by the sudden death of her mother, has returned to school. Dr. Palmer has lately put up a lamp in his front yard with his name on it, for the benefit of those requiring his services at night. Prof. Round's son is here on a visit before entering Amherst college. He has been spending the summer at the Glen House. A new black and gilt sign with U. S. and C. Express on it, has been placed on the side of the wall of their office in the depot restaurant. The building committee for the Universalist church are, M. A. Ferris, A. J. McClure, Warren G. Chase, Rodney E. Smythe, U. W. Garland. There was a severe frost here Monday night, that was predicted last week and government warning telegrams from Washington posted here to that effect. Mr. Arthur W. Prosser, a genial young clerk at the railroad office and his accomplished wife lately made a very thorough and pleasant trip through the mountains. The Boston English Opera company that played Iolanthe in Leconia, Monday night passed northward on the paper train the following morning, filling nearly a whole car. Assistant Superintendent Lewis was struck in the breast Thursday night by a falling rocket which injured him somewhat and damaged his clothing. It was a wonder he was not killed. Prof. Round reports thirty students at the Normal school this term, eight of them being new ones, the other twenty-two having returned from last year's class of thirty-four. C. E. Colby of Meredith, the able cornet player in the Penikese House orchestra, took photographs of that hotel and those stopping there the first of the week. He has also recently taken some of the Black Mountain House, Campton Village. A number of old veterans from this vicinity participated in the Shinn battle at Wells Thursday afternoon. Among the most prominently noticeable were H. C. Philbrick who carried the rebel flag and Henry Leighton, one of the skilful M. H. Pelouet's summer cottage. (Mr. and Mrs. Pelouet are known to all Sunday school workers as the editors of Pelouet's notes on the International Lessons.) The spectators in closed the morning's bonfire, and enjoyed the autumnal beauty and representatives from more than half the families in town. The day was perfect, and the view from the chosen knoll, enclosed by the ledge and the mighty walls of Ocolee, Tomschauc and Sandwich Dome, unsurprisingly fine. All gathered about, while Mr. and Mrs. Pelouet, and Mr. and Mrs. Pelouet, joint occupants of the house, laid their hands to the work and moved the stone into its appointed place. Mr. Pelouet's trowel proclaimed the corner stone well laid and they bade their friends to the house-keeping during the coming summer. Just then a brilliant balloon was fired into the air and called away into the blue heights. Brief speeches were made, an impromptu adaptation from Whittier was given, and after a few minutes of congratulations the company dispersed to their labors of athletic games until the bell should summon to their noonday repast, at Greeley's Mountain House. The good wishes of all the county side go out towards the new Christian home, henceforth to be known as Glenfield. Employment for all! Something that sells every hour, $5.00 to $10.00 per day made by energetic agents. Send postal for terms and samples to M. W. Gatchell, North Haverhill, N. H. (jessetol)

BRIDGEWATER. A. F. Fletcher has sold his colt, the one formerly owned by C. L. Barnard. Frankie Barnard has returned to his home in Somerville, accompanied by his nurse, C. L. Barnard, who will spend a season in the city.

It is generally supposed that A. J. Fletcher has sold his Boardman farm to a party in Sanborn, but as no writings have as yet been made, we are not sure.

J. Brown and wife of Sanborn, were visiting at Mrs. Arthur Fletcher's last week. Mrs. Herman Brown is very sick with pleurisy fever. She is under the care of Dr. Fowler of Bristol.

The frosts in this section have been light, doing but little damage. The potato crop in this part of the world, on account of the drought, is very light, they being small and but few in a hill, not more than two-thirds of the average yield.

HIGGINS BROS., MANCHESTER'S

Leading House Furnishers!

FIVE DEPARTMENTS IN ONE STORE. Carpets, Furniture, Crockery, Upholstery, Bedding.

Largest Stock, Best Goods, Lowest Prices.

We have undertaken and successfully accomplished within the past two years, what no other firm in New Hampshire ever dared to attempt, viz., to keep the fullest and most extensive stock in five distinct departments of house furnishings, in one immense store, securing the unequalled reputation for all over the state of selling reliable goods cheaper than competitors, of doing the largest business, and saving for ourselves a respectable income from profits.

The principles of the secret of our success are all told in our motto, "Largest Stock of Best Goods; Close Attention to Business Well Understood; and Largest Sales at Lowest Prices."

This has secured to us the largest business of our kind in the state, and now with improved facilities, increased force and enlarged stock, we shall attempt to give the people of New Hampshire a better opportunity to obtain reliable and stylish goods, in Carpets, Furniture, Upholstery, Bedding, Crockery, China and Glassware, at lower prices than ever.

As a rule, goods can be sold cheaper in large bills than in dollars, and our business is demonstrating that fact by our astonishing prices on house furnishing outfits. If you wish to furnish your modest cottage, boarding house, or hotel, we can supply all the carpets, any grade from Hemp to Brussels; the furniture—for drawing-room, parlor and chambers; crockery, china and glass-ware from kitchen to attic; bedding, mattresses and feathers for sleeping apartments. And on the whole bill give you the benefit of a discount that will both astonish and please.

Every article is warranted and any defect in quality is cheerfully made good by exchange for new goods or money.

We are the only dealers in the state who keep a stock of Mahogany Furniture and the celebrated Bent-wood Chairs.

Furniture repairing and packing is made a specialty, keeping the best workmen and guaranteeing perfect satisfaction or no charge. Orders by mail, telephone or telegraph receive careful attention, and prices made the same as when ordered in person.

Respectfully yours, HIGGINS BROTHERS, Manchester, N. H.

Slow rivers flow five miles per hour. The Extraordinary Growth of the Boston Daily Globe is something phenomenal even in these latter days of progressive and enterprising journalism. The circulation of both The Daily and Sunday Globe has increased several thousand copies in the last few months, and new subscribers in all sections are adding every week, while people who receive their papers by mail are sending in subscriptions freely. There seems to be no limit to the enterprise of The Globe, and the extent to which its circulation can be increased, (jessetol)
